Prototypes For Trump's New Border Wall Nearing Completion

Compiled And Edited By John T. Robbins, Southern Daily Editor

A handful of towering walls, examples of what could eventually be used on the country's southern border to keep undocumented people out, are almost complete. Construction on eight wall prototypes began Sept. 26 in San Diego, California, U.S. Customs and Border Protection, officials said. Four of the mini-walls are to be made of concrete, and four from "other materials," they said.

Trump called for a wall to be built along the United States' border with Mexico to "prevent illegal immigration, drug and human trafficking and acts of terrorism." San Diego's Customs and Border Protection officials tweeted photos of completed or nearly finished, prototypes Wednesday. "Several border wall prototypes are taking form or are near completion," they said.

Each prototype will be between 18 and 30 feet tall and are designed to "deter illegal crossings in the area," officials said. The prototypes should be done within the next several weeks.

In a January executive order, President

Two walls pictured in the tweet appear to be made of concrete, and another is still in the beginning stages of construction.

Source: President Trump 'To Visit North Korea Border Next Month'

The US President most likely travel to the Demilitarized Zone on the Korean border in early November when he visits South Korea, a defence source said.

The White House has reportedly sent a team of officials to the Peninsula to check potential sites for Trump's "special activity" when he is there.

"They're looking around the Panmunjom and Observation Post Ouellette," the source said while speaking on the condition of anonymity.

"Truce village" Panmunjom and the observation post are both within the heavily-fortified Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and are literally a stone's throw away from the regime.

Trump is widely expected to send a message to North Korea - either verbally or "kinetically" - when he makes the foreign visit.

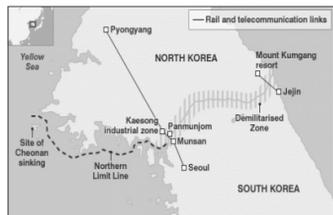

"Trump will likely do something like that and his aides are making the relevant preparations," the source told Yonhap News.

He added: "He may instead visit frontline islands such as Yeonpyeong-do or Baengnyeong-do. I am not sure whether the advance team went there, too."

The commander-in-chief is set to visit Japan, South Korea, China, Vietnam and the Philippines starting on a tour that starts on November 2.

The visit would come as Trump stepped up his war of words with Kim Jong-un. It has prompted numerous security experts to warn the world is literally on the brink of World War 3.

Trump has repeatedly threatened to go to war with the hermit state, most recently hinting there is "only one way" to deal with the crisis.

North Korea has also accused the US of "declaring war" on them while continuing to test nuclear-capable ICBMs.

It has launched more than a dozen missile tests this year and detonated their most powerful ever H-bomb.

The North's foreign minister Ri Yong Ho said last month: "The whole world should clearly remember it was the US who first declared war on our country."

"Since the United States declared war on our country, we will have every right to make countermeasures."

"These include the right to shoot down United States strategic bombers even when they are not inside the airspace border of our country." (Courtesy www.dailystar.co.uk/WORLD-news/)

Houston-area home sales bounced back in September after a double-digit decline in storm-battered August, when Hurricane Harvey flooding forced real estate offices to close and open houses to cancel. Buyers closed on 6,913 single-family homes last month at a median price of $232,000, the latest monthly data from the Houston Association of Realtors show. The sales activity represents a 4.2 percent increase from a year earlier, yet some of last month's activity was likely the result of Harvey-related delays that pushed closings into September. The median price was up 5.5 percent. Demand for single-family rentals last month reached a record high with leases up 83.6 percent and townhome/condominium leases up 92.2 percent. Rental rates followed suit, up 7.9 percent on average to $1,886 for a single-family home. Average townhome/condominium rent grew 5.4 percent to $1,601.

September's rebound followed a nearly 24 percent sales decline in August that interrupted 10 straight months of positive sales, according to the realty association, which tracks Multiple Listing Service property sales throughout primarily Harris, Fort Bend and Montgomery counties. For the year, sales are 2.3 percent ahead of the 2016.

"I don't think anyone expected to see home sales in positive territory this soon after a natural disaster of Harvey's magnitude, but the September report speaks volumes about the incredible resiliency of the Houston real estate market," HAR chair Cindy Hamann said in a statement. Still, townhome and condominium sales fell 5.8 percent in September with 533 units selling. In August, sales were off by nearly 30 percent. The median price last month jumped 8.4 percent to $159,950. With a 4.1-month supply, housing inventory was up compared with a year earlier, but down from August when it was 4.4 months. Apartment rents rising in Harvey's wake

Occupancy also up, accelerating market's recovery

Apartment seekers suddenly are facing higher rents as occupancy tightens across Houston and the damage estimate for flooded units reaches into the tens of thousands.

Complexes that stayed dry in heavily flooded areas like west Houston, Kingwood and Spring have been slammed with new tenants. Landlords there are finding their apartments are worth much more than they were before Hurricane Harvey, when there was a glut of empty units and flagging demand. Ric Campo, CEO of Houston-based Camden Property Trust, said his company has few units left to lease and rents are definitely inching up.

Camden uses specialty software to price its units based on daily supply and demand. According to the system, "we've had some properties and unit types spike 15 to 20 percent," Campo said. "We're not going to do that right now, so we override the system and let it go up 20 bucks or so." Single-family rentals are also in high demand.

Audra Clark has been looking for a new rental house in the West University area after the one she was living in flooded during Harvey. She and her dog had to swim out the front window and escape by kayak, as the water had risen above her knee inside the home.

Clark thought she had secured another house to rent in West U, but then a bidding war started and she decided not to participate. She's been staying with a friend from law school as she looks for a more permanent solution.

Analysts estimate anywhere from 2 to 6 percent - or as many as 43,000 units - of Houston's apartment stock suffered Harvey-related damage.

As of Sept. 22, more than 8,123 units had been leased after Harvey, according to the most recent count from Houston-based ApartmentData.com, which began surveying landlords right after the storm to determine how many units were affected.

After reaching 96 percent of Houston-area property owners or managers, the company determined 14,852 units were damaged. That represents 2.3 percent of the overall supply.

Average rent is up at least $16 from its pre-Harvey amount to $1,000 per month.

Demand likely to come

After Tropical Storm Allison in 2001, rents increased 6 to 7 percent. But at that time, Houston was heading into a recession. The spike could wind up higher this time.

"The economic landscape after Harvey is more positive, so that might lead to a higher rent increase," said Bruce McClenny, president of the multifamily data firm. Excluding damaged units, occupancy has increased to 90.4 percent from 89 percent before the storm.

McClenny said his employees are making another round of calls to gather fresh information.

"What I expect to find this time is we will see higher occupancies start to come in. There's some delay on the part of these people that may be staying with family or friends," he said. "There's some demand that's probably going to hit in October and later."

Mack Armstrong, senior managing director of real estate for apartment operator Greystar, agrees that the "friends and family effect" soon will begin to take hold. But he's actually seen demand trail off after the initial burst.

He said some companies that rented or reserved blocks of units anticipating their employees would need them overestimated the demand. One company, which leased 13 units in a Greystar property in the Clear Lake area, didn't need the units after all.

Armstrong expects any notable spike in rents to be short term, as the damaged units will start coming back over the next couple of months.

Table titled 'The Big Players in the Single-Family Rental Market' listing firms like Blackstone, American Homes 4 Rent, etc. with their number of homes and total investment.

Greystar, which also uses electronic pricing for some of its properties, turned the system off in the two weeks after the storm and then put a 5 percent cap on any rent increases through the rest of September.

The system is back on, but it's being closely monitored.

"We're moving into a more normal period," Armstrong said.

Axiometrics, another multifamily data provider, recently released a report showing as many as 43,000 apartments were damaged by the storm.

The company waited until later in September to start surveying the properties. Some operators had more damage than they initially thought, said Jay Denton of Axiometrics, which is part of Richardson-based RealPage.

West Houston complexes, especially those near the Barker and Addicks dams, had significant damage. The data show this far west Houston submarket, downstream from the reservoirs, with more than 4,700 units, or 15 percent, taken offline - the most of any neighborhood.

Other westside neighborhoods with large blocks of flooded apartments include Gulfton/Westbury, Bear Creek/Katy and Alief.

On Houston's north side, more than 3,000 units were affected in the Spring/Tomball area, accounting for 21 percent of the existing stock and the largest share across all neighborhoods.

The Humble/Kingwood and Greenspoint areas also saw noteworthy multifamily damage.

'Could flip very quickly'

Apartment occupancies could tighten further as Houstonians wait longer for their homes to be repaired amid a labor shortage and a possible shortage of building materials.

Some homeowners may decide to rent long-term instead of rebuilding. And employment could creep up, as well, leading to more natural demand.

"It could flip very quickly," Denton said.

Camden recently began transitioning its local apartment operations into a more normal phase.

But the revenue management system it uses to price units, a process similar to airline or hotel pricing, has been tweaked to keep rent spikes down.

"We're definitely not going to be at full-bore pricing until the middle of November," Campo said.

HISD Board of Education approves academic calendar for 2018-19

Houston ISD's Board of Education approved the district's 2018-2019 academic calendar Thursday night, opting to give students the entire week of Thanksgiving off and starting school on the fourth Monday of August.

Trustees voted 7-0, with two abstaining, to approve the calendar, which will also close schools for winter break from Dec. 24 through Jan. 4, and spring break from March 11 through 15.

Additionally, students would have one day off for a "Fall Holiday" on Sept. 10, 2018 and a "Spring Holiday" on April 19, 2019. The last day of school would be on May 31, after Memorial Day weekend.

Among the Houston area's largest school districts, Houston ISD is typically the first to approve its academic calendar for the coming school year.

Last year, Fort Bend and Conroe ISDs approved their calendars for the coming school year in January, while Pasadena ISD and Cypress-Fairbanks ISD's Boards of Education approved those districts' schedules in February.

But school start dates across the Houston region are far from uniform, as more and more districts take advantage of a 2-year-old state designation that allows them to exempt themselves from some parts of the Texas Education Code.

Under a law passed in 2015, districts can earn District of Innovation status and skirt some regulations if they meet certain performance requirements. Lawmakers at the time said the designation would give districts some of the same freedoms enjoyed by open-enrollment charter schools.

The flexibility offered by the status mainly covers operational requirements such as state reporting, hiring practices and the length of the school day. It offers no exemptions for curriculum or testing.

Of 31 school districts in the greater Houston metropolitan area, 25 are now considered Districts of Innovation, according to the TEA's website. Only six do not currently have the status, including Houston ISD, Cy-Fair ISD, Klein ISD, Goose Creek ISD, Lamar CISD and New Caney ISD.

That means the Houston area's two largest school districts will have to continue to start school on the fourth Monday of August, while 25 others could start earlier.

與男友拍拖五年 黃智雯無待嫁心情

香港文匯報訊（記者 李慶全）黃智賢、黃智雯、黃心穎及姚瑩瑩等11日出席無綫劇集《警警奇兵》的宣傳活動，席間大玩遊戲。黃智賢與黃智雯齊接受訪問，提到11日是“光棍節”，後者憤然不知何謂“光棍”，但笑謂自己從未試過單身。

智雯坦言自己戀愛經驗不多，每次拍拖都是很長時間，她與現在的男友還是她的第二次拍拖，已經一起了五年。近期常傳她好事近，問何時會結婚？智雯笑說：“我不是不捨得結婚，其實單身也很開心，可以瀟灑一點。我性格又比較跳脫，喜歡到處去，試過突然拿着行李就去學跳舞，現在都想學心理學，有助研究角色思維。”那麼男友是否想結婚？她說：“這無得逼，大家暫時都未有這個打算，看明年吧！”是否要等好姊妹姚子羚先出嫁？她笑指也不會等，“希望這班姊妹全部都快點嫁得出！”

黃心穎於劇中有場主動引誘黃子雄的床上

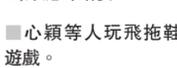

戲，還帶點SM感覺，她表示本身跟對方並不太熟絡，因此演出時確有點尷尬。幸好她要戴上面具，故令她演得更放，而拍攝前她沒問人或者看戲參考。會否給排開男友馬國明看這場SM戲？心穎說：“他應該會看吧，亦應該會笑我！”

黃心穎不爬家姐頭

另談到11日是“光棍節”，問心穎何時脫離單身行列？她即笑說：“我不脫的，家人又無催促，我有三個家姐，三家姐明年又出嫁。”會帶“馬明”出席婚禮？她鬼馬說：“看到時他以什麼身份啦，看是否再親一點！”跟馬明趕過家姐結婚就可親一點？心穎笑說：“不會了，我事業為上！”

黃心穎笑指未知“馬明”以什麼身份出席胞姊婚宴。

阿嬌初晒甜蜜合照

得到愛情滋潤後，阿嬌也愈來愈靚。網上圖片

香港文匯報訊 現年36歲的鍾欣潼（阿嬌），上月認了與有“醫界王陽明”稱號的賴弘國擦出愛火花，11日阿嬌罕有地在Instagram晒與男友在夏威夷度假的合照，是他們拍拖後首度公開晒戀愛。相中可見阿嬌在夕陽下的海邊，和另一半擁腰合照，她更以小女人姿態依偎在男友胸膛，並雙雙展露笑顏。同時，這輯相亦有阿嬌的單人照，相信是由男友操刀。

江若琳和男友遊英過聖誕

香港文匯報訊（記者 李慶全）江若琳（Elanne）11日出席一項魔術活動，魔術師甄澤權給回她二年前於美國賭城的合照，Elanne記得當時正值工作完畢，獲對方邀請去看大衛高柏飛的魔術表演。當知道甄澤權將於今個平安夜在賭城演出，她都希望借男友蕭潤邦一同捧場。

Elanne表示其實已計劃好跟男友到英國過聖誕，主要是男友想去當地看足球賽事，自己都想去見識。旅費方面，她坦言不會要男友全部支付，覺得大家都給一點沒所謂。
