U.S. intelligence says Huawei funded by Chinese state security: report

(Reuters) - U.S. intelligence has accused Huawei Technologies of being funded by Chinese state security, The Times said on Saturday, adding to the list of allegations faced by the Chinese technology company in the West.

The CIA accused Huawei of receiving funding from China's National Security Commission, the People's Liberation Army and a third branch of the Chinese state intelligence network, the British newspaper reported, citing a source.

Earlier this year, U.S. intelligence shared its claims with other members of the Five Eyes intelligence-sharing group, which includes Britain, Australia, Canada and New Zealand, according to the report bit.ly/2K-T7ztd.

Huawei dismissed the allegations in a statement cited by the newspaper. "Huawei does not comment on unsubstantiated allegations backed up by zero evidence from anonymous sources," a Huawei representative told The Times.

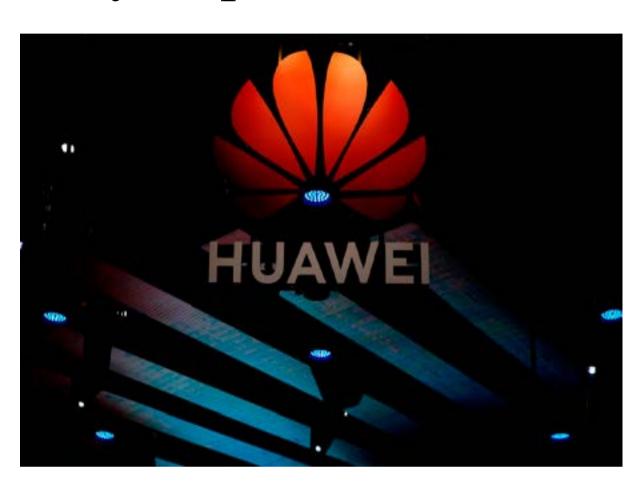

The company, the CIA and China's Foreign Ministry did not respond immediately to requests for comment.

The accusation comes at a time of trade tensions between Washington and Beijing and amid concerns in the United States that Huawei's equipment could be used for espionage. The company has said the concerns are unfounded.

Authorities in the United States are probing Huawei for alleged sanctions violations.

Meng Wanzhou, Huawei's chief financial officer and daughter of its founder, Ren Zhengfei, was arrested in Canada in December at the request of the United States on charges of bank and wire fraud in violation of U.S. sanctions against Iran.

She denies wrongdoing and her father has previously said the arrest was "politically motivated".

U.S. arrests former Marine connected to North Korea embassy raid in Spain

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - U.S. authorities have arrested a former U.S. Marine who is a member of a group that allegedly raided the North Korean embassy in Madrid in February and stole electronics, two sources familiar with the arrest said on Friday.

Christopher Ahn was arrested on Thursday and appeared on Friday in federal court in Los Angeles, according to a law enforcement official and a source close to the group.

In a related development, armed U.S. federal agents on Thursday raided the apartment of Adrian Hong, leader of Cheolima Civil Defense, a group seeking the overthrow of North Korean leader Kim Jong Un that is blamed for the Feb. 22 embassy raid, a person close to the group said without providing more details. Hong was not present at his residence when the raid occurred, the source said.

The U.S. Justice Department declined to

A group of at least 10 people stormed into the embassy, restrained and physically beat some personnel and held them hostage for hours before fleeing, according to a Spanish court. Spanish investigators have said the intruders removed computers and hard drives from the embassy before fleeing to the United States, where they handed over the material to the FBI.

U.S. senators offer North Korea sanctions bill, backed by Warmbier parents

WASHINGTON (Reuters) - Two U.S. senators sought to dial up pressure on North Korea on Tuesday by reintroducing a bill to impose sanctions on any bank that does business with its government, with the endorsement of the parents of Otto Warmbier, a U.S. college student who died after being imprisoned by Pyongyang. Republican Senator Pat Toomey and Democrat Chris Van Hollen offered the "Otto Warmbier Banking Restrictions Involving North Korea (BRINK) Act" days after a summit between Republican President Donald Trump and North Korean leader Kim Jong Un was abruptly cut off after they failed to reach a deal for the reclusive communist nation to give up its nuclear weapons.

After the summit, Trump said he believed Kim's claim not to have known how Otto Warmbier was treated, prompting his parents to issue a sharp statement strongly condemning Kim's "evil regime" and blaming it for their son's death.

In a statement, Fred and Cindy Warmbier thanked van Hollen and Toomey, and said they believed the legislation would provide useful tools to help change North Korea.

"We continue to support the bill and appreciate them honoring our son's memory," the Warmbiers said.

The measure, which would deny access to the U.S. banking system to any foreign bank that does business with North Korea, unanimously passed the Senate Banking Committee last year but did not advance further.

To become law, it would need to pass the full Senate and House of Representatives and be signed into law by Trump.

Tesla blames misprinted label for China customs hiccup

BENGALURU/SHANGHAI (Reuters) - Tesla Inc said on Tuesday that China's customs authorities have accepted the electric carmaker's plan to resolve problems with the clearance of its Model 3 sedans that centered around misprinting of labels.

Shares in Silicon Valley billionaire Elon Musk's company fell more than 5 percent in early trading after Chinese media reported Shanghai customs had suspended clearance for a batch of Tesla's cars. They were last down 1.3 percent at $281.73.

"We have already reached a resolution with Chinese customs, and we are working closely with them to resume clearance procedures on these vehicles," a Tesla spokesperson said in a statement.

"Sales of Model 3 in the country are not impacted, and we continue to deliver Model 3 vehicles that have already been processed." Making inroads into China, the world's largest electric vehicle market, is crucial for the Tesla as it seeks to offset softening demand in the United States and convince investors of its ability to become consistently profitable.

"Selling into China has clear hurdles and this is a reminder of the pitfalls when betting on growth in the region," Wedbush Securities analyst Daniel Ives said. Musk has played up the support Tesla is getting from Chinese authorities as the company invests in the country's first wholly foreign-owned car plant in Shanghai, due to come online later this Until then, Tesla has to import U.S.-made cars with substantial customs duties, putting it at a disadvantage against locally-made, government-subsidized electric vehicles from rivals such as Nio Inc, Byton and XPeng Motors.

Financial publication Caixin had first reported about China's customs authorities blocking the cars.

COMMUNITY

Sometime soon, millions of people may find themselves unwittingly involved in a test that could profoundly change their daily routines. local economies and civic lives.

They'll have to figure out how to keep up with City Hall, their neighborhoods and their kids' schools — as well as store openings, new products and sales — without a 170-year-old staple of daily life: a local newspaper.

At least one city — possibly San Francisco, Miami, Minneapolis or Cleveland — likely will soon lose its last daily newspaper, analysts say. And it "could be a lot more widespread than people have been predicting," says Mike Simonton, who tracks media debt for Fitch Ratings.

It's hard to ignore that possibility as the pace of newspaper closings accelerates.

Starting Wednesday, Hearst's 146-yearold Seattle Post-Intelligencer survives as a scaled-down online publication offering mostly commentary. That leaves The Seattle Times as the city's only major paper-and-ink Gannett gci, parent of USA TODAY. mav shutter the 140-year-old Tucson Citizen, which competes with the Arizona Daily Star, if a buyer can't be found.

Last month, E.W. Scripps ssp closed the Rocky Mountain News, leaving The Denver Post as the city's sole major daily.

Are these symptoms of a miserable economy that's pulverizing a handful of high-profile papers, including some owned by companies with unusually crushing debt loads? Or have we reached a tipping point where advertisers and readers are flocking so quickly to digital media that most of the nation's 1,400 dailies may end up in the morgue? Industry watchers aren't sure, although some say it's too early to start hanging crepe. "Publishers and journalists have become their own worst enemy," says Robert Picard, a media economics scholar who edits the Journal of Media Business Studies. "They are running around arguing that the sky is falling. And they're making the situation appear far worse than it is."

About 80% of newspaper revenue comes from advertising, and the Newspaper Association of America expects those sales to drop 9.7% in 2009 to $34.2 billion, after falling 16.5% in 2008.

"Advertising has fallen off a cliff," says Randy Bennett, senior vice president of business development at the NAA. "The question is how much of that will come back when things pick up again. And the expectation is, certainly not all of it." Business models

Almost everyone agrees that newspapers must reinvent their business models. Experiments include The New York Times' plan to enlist journalism students to help cover some neighborhoods in Brooklyn and New Jersey. The East Valley Tribune in Mesa, Ariz., recently began to offer free home de-with families that appeal to advertisers. Some experts say that it's time to consider extraordinary measures, including government bailouts, to ensure that no community has its newsrooms go dark.

livery four days a week to neighborhoods

"We need to view journalism in the same way that we view libraries and public schools, as absolutely essential to any prospering community," says Theodore Glasser, professor of communications at Stanford University. "A lot of good stuff is published by newspapers so that public officials see it and act accordingly. That's the power of the press. And that's the first thing being cut." Others say not to worry: The Internet and the market will empower professional journalists, bloggers and interest groups to independently provide all the local news anyone could want.

"There's going to be an ecosystem, a network of different players involved in news for different reasons," says Jeff Jarvis, who runs the City University of New York's interactive journalism program.

Traditional newspapers won't be part of the mix, though: They "aren't willing to cannibalize and disrupt themselves," Jarvis says. "It's too late. ... It's going to be a post-Armageddon rebuilding.' Over the past few months:

· The Detroit Free Press and The Detroit News announced plans to cut home delivery to three days a week beginning March 30 and urged readers to go online to follow the news on other days.

· Virtually every major newspaper announced staff cuts. McClatchy mni— which owns The Miami Herald, The Kansas City Star and the Fort Worth Star-Telegramsaid in February that it would slash 15% of its workforce, on top of a 10% cut late last year. "By the end of 2009, a quarter of all the newsroom jobs that existed in 2001 will be gone," the Pew Project for Excellence in Journalism said this week in its annual "The State of the News Media" report.

• Those keeping their jobs have seen salaries cut. Gannett required virtually all employees to take a one-week unpaid furlough in the first quarter.

• Publicly traded publishers collectively lost about 39% of their market value since Jan. 1, underperforming the benchmark Standard & Poor's 500 index, which is down 16.5%. Looked at another way, the $5.4 billion that Rupert Murdoch paid in 2007 for Wall Street Journal parent Dow Jones nwsa could buy Gannett, McClatchy, New York Times Co. nyt, Washington Post Co. wpo, A.H. Belo ahc and E.W. Scripps with about $750 million to spare, based on current values.

• Publishers in Philadelphia and Minneapolis as well as the Journal Register, a chain in the northeast and Michigan, filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection. That followed a similar filing in December by Tribune Co., publisher of Chicago Tribune, Los Angeles Times and The-Sun in Baltimore.

Double-digit profit margins

Tough times? You bet. But one has to imagine an epic social and economic transformation to conclude that the newspaper industry is at death's door.

Nearly half of all adults read a newspaper every day and spent $10.5 billion last year to do so. The average newspaper generates about a 10% profit margin.

"It's not the 20% to 30% they were enjoying several years ago," Bennett says. "But it's still an enviable profit margin for many businesses."

That's overlooked with all of the attention on large local papers that are especially vulnerable to the soft economy.

Advertisers in big cities have plenty of options to reach consumers, and newspapers are one of the most expensive. They typically charge about $25 for every 1,000 people who might see an ad covering one-third of a page. That's a lot more than the cost to reach a similar audience via radio, magazines, billboards and websites. Advertisers outside of big cities have far fewer alternatives. As a result, "Smaller-market newspapers are in better financial shape," Bennett says.

Most large publishers also are straining to pay off heavy debt they took on before the economy fell into a tailspin.

Although large local newspapers have the biggest problems, everyone is struggling to keep ad sales and readers. That includes national dailies led by USA TODAY, The Wall Street Journal and The New York Times, although they benefit from economies of scale and strong brand identities.

Nearly 67% of homes have an Internet connection. That opens them to sites offering almost everything found in newspapers, including national and global news, business, opinion, entertainment, sports, comics and horoscopes.

That's why some experts say local newspapers should concentrate on local news and events and become less stuffy. "This was a much more fun business years ago when people didn't hold themselves to such high standards," says former Merrill

Lynch analyst Lauren Rich Fine, now at Kent State University. "There are different ways to (report the news) and not be so hard on yourself if you get it wrong."

It's hard to predict how many people want local news enough to pay a price that, as ad sales shrink, could be much higher than now — or to pay any fee to read stories online, where most papers now offer them free. "If you look at public radio and the troubles their outlets have raising money for public affairs journalism, it might give you pause," says James Hamilton, who runs Duke University's DeWitt Wallace Center for Media and Democracy.

Before about 1840, when the Penny Press turned newspapers into an inexpensive mass medium, 15% of the population spent the equivalent in today's dollars of as much as $4 a day for a newspaper, Picard says.

Digital media evangelists say the future will be much different. About 85% of a newspaper's costs go to things such as presses, paper, ink and trucks. Without those costs, even modest ad sales could support lots of people to provide local news and information without charge.

"There's a market demand for quality journalism and reporting," Jarvis says. What's the evidence? "Based on democracy. Based on the intelligence of the audience. Based on the fact that my son reads more news than ever. Based on the fact that we need it."

Some journalists agree, working with non-profit online publications including Voiceofsandiego.org, the St. Louis Beacon and Minneapolis' MinnPost.com1'.

'Several former Rocky Mountain News employees plan to start InDenverTimes.com in May if they can persuade 50,000 people to pay $4.99 a month for a year.

Glasser doubts that such ventures can compensate for the loss of newspaper newsrooms. "I've seen nothing in the blogosphere that provides the sustained, systematic coverage that a good newsroom provides. Not even close," he says.

If he's right, then the consequences from current trends could be ugly.

'We'll know if things don't work out if there's an increase in corruption," Hamilton says. "When the watchdog goes away, what happens? That's the experiment we're starting to run." (Courtesy abcnews.go.com)

BUSINESS

Most Americans have filed their income taxes by midnight Monday, April 15, and employers will report their payroll taxes later this month. But companies that have replaced or expanded their flesh-and-blood staff with robots will get a free pass.

What's new: Amid fears of automation-fueled job loss, a once-fringe debate is exploding into public view: Why don't we tax the bots?

The big picture: For over a century and a half, the United States has taxed income, first to fund war and later to build up the country's coffers. But now, some experts say it's time to reevaluate who — or what — should be taxed.

- •The idea is to use money raised from companies carrying out automation to help retrain or support people who lose their jobs because of it.
- •Among the robot levy's most ardent and improbable supporters is Bill Gates, who in a 2017 interview said robots should be taxed "at a similar level" to the humans it replaced, even if that slows the speed of automation.
- •Pumping the brakes will give policymakers more time to counteract potential unemployment, proponents argue.
- "It's a bit like polluting the environment," says James Manyika, director of the McKinsey Global Institute. Companies will choose cheap, dirty fossil fuels over clean energy unless there are incentives not to—just like they'll likely choose to automate away jobs.

Detractors, however, say a tax could stall innovation at a time when China is unwaveringly pushing to dominate AI and robotics.

•In a report last week, the Information Technology and Innovation Foundation, a think tank, argued that the robot tax would slow GDP and wage growth.

•ITIF president Rob Atkinson instead

Robots May Be Taxed In The Future To Fund Human Services

called for a tax credit for investing in robots, calling predictions of job loss from automation overblown.

Why robots should be taxed if they take people's jobs
Bill Gates says governments could use a robot tax to fund human services – it would also help remedy income inequality

The idea of a tax on robots was raised last May in a draft report to the European parliament prepared by MEP Mady Delvaux from the committee on legal affairs. Emphasising how robots could boost inequality, the report proposed that there might be a "need to introduce corporate reporting requirements on the extent and proportion of the contribution of robotics and AI to the economic results of a company for the purpose of taxation and social security contributions".

A tax on robots might provide revenues to finance retraining schemes for displaced workers. (Photo/Reuters)

The public reaction to Delvaux's proposal has been overwhelmingly negative, with the notable exception of Bill Gates, who endorsed it. But we should not dismiss the idea out of hand. In just the past year, we have seen the proliferation of devices such as Google Home and Amazon Echo Dot (Alexa), which replace some aspects of household help. Likewise, the Delphi and nuTonomy driverless taxi services in Singapore have started to replace taxi drivers. And Doordash, which uses Starship Technologies miniature self-driving vehicles, is replacing restaurant delivery people.

If these and other labor-displacing innovations succeed, surely calls to tax them will grow more frequent, owing to the human problems that arise when people lose their jobs – often jobs with which they closely identify, and for which they may have spent years preparing. Optimists point out that there have always been new jobs for people replaced by technology, but, as the robot revolution accelerates, doubts about how well this will work out continue to grow. A tax on robots, its advocates hope, might slow down the process, at least temporarily, and provide revenues to finance adjustment, like retraining programs for displaced workers.

If the robots are coming for our jobs, make sure they pay their taxes —John Naughton

Such programmes may be as essential as our work is to healthy human life as we know it. In his book Rewarding Work, Edmund S Phelps emphasized the fundamental importance of maintaining a "place in society – a calling". When many people are no longer able to find work to support a family, troubling consequences ensue, and, as Phelps stresses, "the functioning of the entire community may be impaired". In other words, there are externalities to robotisation that justify some government intervention.

Critics of a robot tax have emphasized that the ambiguity of the term "robot" makes defining the tax base difficult. The critics also stress the new robotics' enormous, undeniable benefits to productivity growth.

But let's not rule out so quickly at least modest robot taxes during the transition to a different world of work. Such a tax should be part of a broader plan to manage the consequences of the robotics revolution.

Robots won't just take our jobs – they'll make the rich even richer

Discussion of a robot tax should consider what alternative we have to deal with rising inequality. It would be natural to consider a more progressive income tax and a "basic income". But these measures do not have widespread popular support. If support is not widespread, the tax, even if imposed, will not last.

So, taxes must be reframed to remedy income inequality induced by robotisation. It may be more politically acceptable, and thus sustainable, to tax the robots rather than just the high-income people. And while this would not tax individual human success, as income taxes do, it might in fact imply somewhat higher taxes on higher incomes, if high incomes are earned in activities that involve replacing humans with robots.

A moderate tax on robots, even a temporary tax that merely slows the adoption of disruptive technology, seems a natural component of a policy to address rising inequality. Revenue could be targeted towards wage insurance, to help people replaced by new technology make the transition to a different career. This would accord with our natural sense of justice, and thus be likely to endure. (Courtesy the guardian.com)

Janet 謝怡芬將一家三口螢幕初 體驗獻給林子平導演,拍攝過程也 特別印象深刻:「那天以爲我們三 人會一起化妝,結果時間錯開了, 我化完妝 George 和 Egan 還沒來,完 全不知道他們上戲時的樣子,直到 實際拍攝他倆才出現,因此在詮釋 兩人突然給我驚喜的劇情很真實 ,還看見 Egan 穿那麼可愛,我超 融化。」Egan 還未滿一歲即參演 《如果愛,重來》,被問及是否 有意願當星媽, Janet 謝怡芬表示 「當星媽很棒,希望有很多機 會,可以靠 Egan 賺錢(哈哈哈), 現在 Egan 比我還紅, 社群 po 照片 影片若沒有 Egan 時大家都會一直 問他呢,他也喜歡上鏡頭不怕生 , 我覺得可以讓他好好發揮自己 的表演基因。」

《如果愛,重來》吳岳擎於劇 中飾演雜誌社採訪編輯,拍攝前特

別實地約訪雜誌社總 編輯,探勘採訪的實 際情形,實際拍攝時 吳岳擎說:「那是我 第一天上戲,就要接 受這個艱難的任務, 導演希望我能真的像 編輯跟他對談,而非 跟著劇本的對白, Janet 是一個非常熱情 的人,覺得很幸運這 場戲的採訪對象是她

,讓我不會這麼緊張 ,這段劇情安排他老 公和孩子驚喜的出現 ,但什麼時候會出現 其實我和 Janet 都不知 道,當我們訪問戲進 行到一半時,導演讓 她老公和孩子突然走

了進來, Janet 當下的反應真的非常 真實!因爲她其實已經有好一陣子 沒有看到他們了!她立刻喜極而泣 !我覺得能因爲一場戲一次的採訪 ,看到他們一家人團聚,非常感人 ,而且他們夫妻感情一看就知道非 常甜蜜,眼中充滿了愛意!」談到 此次與吳岳擎合作的印象,Janet透 霞:「岳氅很專業,其實當天拍攝 我是本色演出,對於採訪工作很適 應所以自然流露,非常順利就拍攝 完成,拍完時還覺得有點短,怎麼 這樣就結束啦~希望之後子平導演 ,可以把我們都寫入劇中角色不要 只是客串。」《如果愛,重來》將 於4/24 (三)晚間十點愛奇藝台灣站全 網獨播,VIP搶先看4集,台視每週 三、四 22:00 東森綜合台每週六 22: 00 同步播出。

立法院修法封殺 「追劇神器」

台灣線上影視產業協 會估算,隨著盜版影音崛 起,如中國安博、千尋盒 子等,號稱能提供影音看 到飽、終生免費的機上盒 ,已造成台灣影視產業一 年高達280億元損失。最 新立法院會三讀通過,要 封殺包括 APP 在內的這些 「追劇神器」,未來只要 店家販售或協助安裝,最 高可罰50萬,處2年以下 徒刑。

聚精會神盯著戲劇, 「追劇神器」千尋盒子, 不少愛追劇的民眾都有裝 ,但未來恐怕市面上買不

包括千尋、安博等非 法機上盒,雖然擁有廣大 用戶,但立法院會三讀修 正通過著作權法第87及93 條,將封殺此類機上盒, 不論販售或協助裝設機上 盒,或以APP提供收看, 最高將處兩年以下徒刑, 或倂科最高50萬罰金。

民眾指出,「沒有差 ,網路上會找得到,你這

個東西真的不好就不會有 人去看,就會找其他管道 ,就算今天不是安博盒子 ,我也會去看美劇或其他 電影,不會因爲你沒這個 東西,我就選擇去看沒有 興趣的戲劇。

即使立法封殺追劇神 器,很多人還是覺得,有 心要看劇,就算沒盒子, 境外載點也難以遏止。但 修法確定,公開販售店家 賣得很低調,更強調要自 己下載軟體裝才能看。

機上盒店家表示, 「這個軟體裡面沒有,那 個是沒有東西的,要怎麼 設定我們也不能教,我們 也沒辦法講,你要自己來

不只追劇神器被禁止 , 許多民眾愛看的愛奇藝 ,也被爆出涉嫌偷租伺服 器,最重可撤辦事處。若 被撤伺服器,未來民眾看 劇可能會卡卡,雙重夾擊 下,未來再想花小錢就能 瘋狂追劇?只怕難度大大 提高。

捲起褲腳、彎腰插 秧、活捉泥鰍……春耕是 許多人心心念念的四月 天。為了滿足春耕遊這一

"時令"需求,旅行社不斷"深挖"廣東 鄉土風情濃郁的旅遊目的地,為遊客"下 鄉"提供鬆弛有度的便利選擇。

■香港文匯報記者 胡若璋 廣州報道

插秧捉泥鰍 共做竹筒飯

客人前來感受田園勞作的汗水與歡樂。水田裡,戴着草帽 的大小身影,手握着青葱的小秧苗,耐心向當地的農民請 教正確的姿勢和插秧的技巧。而在水田裡捉泥鰍,則成為 了最具"孩子氣"的自然互動。

田邊不遠處的山野竹林也蘊藏着午餐的重要食材一 大炮竹筒飯。 在專人指導下,由父母齊心協力砍下的竹 子,孩子們像玩"接龍"遊戲一般,當起竹子的運送工。 到了做大鍋飯的場地,一家人一起合力鋸開竹子,把事先 拌好了臘味的米均匀放進竹筒,再架在柴火上不斷翻轉。 火焰催着竹香融入米飯,把人的好胃口都激發出來。

剩下的邊角竹料,最適合父子一起製作童年的小玩具 "竹將軍"。一根根小竹子,經由一條細線串連,一個可 萌可威武的"竹將軍"便誕生了。

探從化蜂蜜奧秘

當然,現在的鄉村遊也會設置許多像內地綜藝節目"爸 爸去哪兒"的項目,備受歡迎的包括鍋炒爆米花,鴨子賽跑 田園歡樂運動會、蜂園探險品嚐原蜜等活動

在不斷更新的主題遊中,近距離觀察蜜蜂工作,釀蜂 蜜也備受親子遊客的喜歡。蜂場經驗豐富的養蜂人如今做 起講解員的工作,也越來越得心應手。養蜂人風趣介紹蜜 蜂的生長周期、生活習性,帶着大家一起品嚐蜂巢蜜。

而對於喜歡自駕的家庭而言,只需把導航目的地設置 為從化溫泉鎮、良口鎮、丫髻山,便能在沿途發現不少村 莊的農場體驗項目

訪客家古鎮 親手製木筷

深圳布吉的甘坑小鎮,自3月中旬以來,已經成為小 學生春遊的最佳場所。

在特色小鎮層出不窮的當下,如何從一個沒落的古村 落一躍成為特色小鎮? 深圳華僑城文化集團總經理胡梅 林稱,文化既有復古的,也有面向未來的。面向古代的小 鎮好做,而面向未來的小鎮沒有標準。

甘坑客家小鎮曾是客家人聚居地,有歷經120餘年滄 桑的南香樓和建於雍正年間的狀元府。

"小涼帽"傳文化

在甘坑小鎮多元的定位中,不得不説的是,甘坑小鎮 憑借一頂"小涼帽",從客家人製作的涼帽來講述古鎮特 色。一頂中鏤空、寬帽簷的涼帽,經過客家人的編製既可 擋雨、又能遮陽。據悉,甘坑小鎮在過去還是盛名在外的 涼帽村,八十年代出口的涼帽佔據全球八成份額。隨着布 料成本下降,雨傘與空調的普及,涼帽逐漸成為歷史一 景,並被列為廣東省非物質文化遺產。

如今,甘坑小鎮的"小涼帽"形象開始走入深圳小學 生的日常生活中。從繪本到動畫,再到主題樂園、酒店、 農場,小涼帽如今300多種主題衍生產品,豐富了小學生 的學習生活出行的方方面面。

其中,小涼帽農場開放蔬菜瓜果種植,以及親手採摘 體驗。除此之外,小涼帽農場的木工製筷、活字印刷術、 手動造紙項目,為小學生的春遊提供了室內清涼的另一番 趣味體驗

足不出酒店 學祭祀習俗

茂德公集團回鄉投資建設的湛江雷州的雷 州樟樹灣大酒店每年3月至4月都要舉辦"春 耕節"。每年的春耕節,酒店都會為客人介紹 ·年之計在於春"的含義;此春即是"春耕"。樟 樹灣大酒店把雷州人重視春耕插秧祭祀習俗搬到酒店 舉行。春耕前的隆重祭拜儀式,也盡量邀請當地村民 特色還原,借此表達和傳遞對春耕的敬意。

儀式結束後,住客們便開始擼起袖子、捲起褲腳。 拿起秧苗,下田插秧。

酒店庭院內的春耕圖,一上傳到社交平台,好評 與諮詢者湧來。

該活動不僅為前來的住客提供新奇的田園體 驗,也借此網羅許多文藝界"大咖"前往,為雷州 人的春耕插秧祭祀習俗,積累更多文字素材。

徜徉生熊園

到村野鄉間插秧、摘桑葚、摘菜,體驗春 耕樂,也成為了汕頭民眾四月出行、度假的新 模式。在汕頭丹櫻生態園裡的"插秧節",上百名遊客 可以齊齊赤足,彎腰整地和插秧。在早前的清明節假 期,不少從東南亞回來的潮籍鄉親們在親戚的帶領下, 前來體驗親子插秧的樂趣。這幅不亦樂乎的場景,在生 態園工作人員看來,已經漸成氣候。
