Russia promises to scale back Ukraine war but West sceptical

ISTANBUL/KYIV OUTSKIRTS/ MARIUPOL, Ukraine, March 29 (Reuters) - Russia promised on Tuesday to scale down military operations around Ukraine's capital and north, while Kyiv proposed adopting neutral status, in confidence-building steps that were the first signs of progress towards negotiating peace.

Their talks took place in an Istanbul palace more than a month into the largest attack on a European nation since World War Two. Russia's invasion has been halted on most fronts by stiff resistance from Ukrainian forces who have recaptured territory even as civilians are trapped in besieged cities.

Thousands of people have been killed or injured, nearly four million have fled Ukraine, and Russia's economy has been pummelled by sanctions.

"In order to increase mutual trust and create the necessary conditions for further negotiations and achieving the ultimate goal of agreeing and signing (an) agreement, a decision was made to radically, by a large margin, reduce military activity in the Kyiv and Chernihiv directions," Russian Deputy Defence Minister Alexander Fomin told reporters.

He made no mention of other areas that have seen heavy fighting, including around Mariupol in the southeast, Sumy and Kharkiv in the east and Kherson and Mykolaiv in the south.

Some analysts noted that Russia's promise to reduce fighting mostly covered areas where it has been losing ground.

"Does 'we'll drastically reduce military operations around Kyiv' = 'we're getting our ass kicked, transitioned to a hasty defense?'" tweeted Mark Hertling, a retired U.S. lieutenant general and former commander of U.S. forces in Europe.

A U.S. official, speaking on condition of anonymity, also struck a sceptical note, saying further major Russian offensives elsewhere in Ukraine should be expected.

"We believe any movement of Russian forces from around Kyiv is a redeployment, not a withdrawal... They are shifting gears and probably because they failed with their initial offensive," the official said.

PROPOSALS

Ukrainian negotiators said that under their proposals, Kyiv would agree not to join alliances or host bases of foreign troops, but would have security guaranteed in terms similar to "Article 5", the collective defence clause of the transatlantic NATO military alliance.

They named Israel and NATO members Canada, Poland and Turkey as countries that may give such guarantees. Russia, the United States, Britain, Germany and Italy could also be involved.

The proposals, which would require a referendum in Ukraine, mentioned a 15-year consultation period on the status of Crimea, annexed by Russia in 2014. The fate of the southeastern Donbas region, which Russia demands Ukraine cede to separatists, would be discussed by the Ukrainian and Russian leaders.

Kyiv's proposals also included one that Moscow would not oppose Ukraine joining the European Union, Russia's lead negotiator Vladimir Medinsky said. Russia has previously opposed Ukrainian membership of the EU and especially of NATO.

Medinsky said Russia's delegation would study and present the proposals to President Vladimir Putin.

To prepare a peace agreement, Medinsky later told the TASS news agency, "we still have a long way to go".

The Ukrainian negotiators called for a meeting between Putin and President Volodymyr Zelenskiy. Medinsky said that could take place when foreign ministers were ready to initial an agreement.

U.S. President Joe Biden spoke by phone about Ukraine with the leaders of Britain, France, Germany and Italy, British Prime Minister Boris Johnson's office said in a statement.

"They agreed there could be no relaxation of western resolve until the horror inflicted on Ukraine has ended," it said.

A source familiar with the situation told Reuters the allies discussed more financial aid of up to $500 million for Ukraine.

SCAVENGING

In Mariupol, besieged for weeks by Russian forces, nearly 5,000 people have been killed, according to figures from the mayor which cannot be verified.

In parts now held by Russian troops, the few visible residents appeared ghostlike among charred apartment blocks.

One little girl played with a stick in ruins as explosions crackled in the distance. Two youths scavenged through rubble.

"We are eight people. We have two buckets of potatoes, one bucket of onions," said Irina, an engineer, in her apartment where windows had been blasted out. Her group boiled soup on a makeshift stove in the stairwell.

WEA LEE'S GLOBAL NOTES

Education Is A Centuries-Old Plan

The training courses for junior reporters of Southern News Group is about to start in our new International Studio. We are so grateful that many youngsters will join our team.

Education is a centuries-old plan. School education, social education, family education and ethical education affects everyone's life. Over the years, Asian Chinese families living in United States have given priority to their children's education. First, because there are so many talented youth among the major ethnic groups, to have the youth educated is the main reason to improve the economics of the family.

The training courses for our young reporters will last for several weeks. A select group of our senior reporters and editors will teach them all about how to become an outstanding news reporter in the future.

We deeply feel that the most important duty of our media company is to convey accurate information to the general public. Over the years we have worked with the McDonald's Corporation to sponsor Education Workshops in different cities and have taught thousands of youngsters and their parents how to choose the right college and apply for scholarships.

For many years, I have worked with many young students. I told them to remember five simple letters: HAATS, meaning that you must have a Healthy mental and physical body; you need Ambition and need aspiration for a goal in your life; Action—you must take action to reach your goal; Time, which we all have, in a good environment to attend school; and finally, a Sincere attitude and serious spirit to face all the work and challenges that lie ahead.

We welcome these twenty young students as they join our Southern News Group family. Under the careful guidance of our team members, we want to cultivate you as a talented reporter in the future.

Key Point

(Editor’s Note: In what may be the most ambitious and far-reaching “corporate pivots” of our time, Facebook is changing its name to Meta and introducing a corporate redo that will include features and services aimed to touch and influence every area of our lives. What this will all mean going forward is impossible to totally understand at the outset because the “Meta universe” as introduced to the media by Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg will be an offering of services ranging from gaming to altered reality that will be constantly be changing, evolving and growing right in front of our eyes. Will it be good for us, or only another array of digital distractions from our “real lives?” The company says the concept has been in the works for years and that there will be many new choices for consumers. I say give it a chance, but keep an open mind./John T. Robbins)

What Is The Metaverse? How Will It Change Our Lives?

The basics: Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg on Thursday, October 28, 2021, said the social media giant is renaming its company that will now be called Meta.

Why it matters: The effort is meant to shift its image from a social media platform to a “metaverse” company that focuses on building virtual work and social communities.

Details: Speaking at Facebook’s annual Connect AR and VR event, Zuckerberg said that Facebook’s future “is beyond any one

- Moving forward, he said, users will not need to log into Facebook to be able to access the company’s other apps and features.
- “I’ve been thinking a lot about our identity as we think about this next chapter,” he said. “Facebook is one of the most used products in the world. It’s an iconic social media brand. but increasingly, it just doesn’t encompass everything that we do.”
- “Building our social media apps will always be an important focus for us, but right now our brand is so tightly linked to one product that can’t possibly represent everything we do and will be linked to in the future,” he added.”

The company’s corporate structure is not changing. Monday it announced that it would separate its “Family of Apps” financial reporting from Facebook Reality Labs, which is spearheading the metaverse project.

• The company intends to start trading under the new stock ticker, MVRs, on December 1. Facebook says it has already reserved that ticker name.

The big picture: The rebrand comes amid one of Facebook’s most dramatic public relations crises in recent memory. Over the past week, dozens of news outlets released reports about the tech giant based on leaked whistleblower documents.

• The stories suggested that Facebook has known about harms caused by its policies and products, but opted not to address them at the expense of the company’s bottom line — an allegation the company vehemently denies.

Be smart: Dozens of companies have rebranded over the years, typically representing a shift in focus. For example, Apple rebranded from Apple Computers and Tesla rebranded from Tesla Motors.

• Google in 2015 famously rebranded to Alphabet and announced a restructure that made Google a subsidiary of the bigger Alphabet holding company. The new structure was meant to help separate Google’s other companies and investments, like YouTube and Android, from Google.

Critics: Critics argue that Facebook’s rebrand signals more than just a business shift, but also a chance to save its reputation to avoid further press and regulatory scrutiny. (Courtesy axios.com)

Meta’s Formal Introduction To The Media On Thursday, October 28, 2021, CEO Mark Zuckerberg introduced Meta, which brings together our apps and technologies under one new company brand. Meta’s focus will be to bring the metaverse to life and help people connect, find communities and grow businesses.

The metaverse will feel like a hybrid of today’s online social experiences, sometimes expanded into three dimensions or projected into the physical world. It will let you share immersive experiences with other people even when you can’t be together — and do things together you couldn’t do in the physical world. It’s the next evolution in a long line of social technologies, and it’s ushering in a new chapter for our company. Mark shared more about this vision in a founder’s letter.

Our annual Connect conference brings together augmented and virtual reality developers, content creators, marketers and others to celebrate the industry’s momentum and growth. This year’s virtual event explored what experiences in the metaverse could feel like over the next decade — from social connection, to entertainment, gaming, fitness, work, education and commerce. We also announced new tools to help people build for the metaverse, including Presence Platform, which will enable new mixed reality experiences on Quest 2, and a $150-million investment in immersive learning to train the next generation of creators.

You can watch the full Connect keynote and learn more about how the metaverse will unlock new opportunities at meta.com. You can also learn more about our work over the past several months to develop the Meta brand on our design blog. Read all our news in the posts below:

Our corporate structure is not changing, however, how we report on our financials will. Starting with our results for the fourth quarter of 2021, we plan to report on two operating segments: Family of Apps and Reality Labs. We also intend to start trading under the new stock ticker we have reserved, MVRs, on December 1. Today’s announcement does not affect how we use or share data.

Meta builds technologies that help people connect, find communities, and grow businesses. When Facebook launched in 2004, it changed the way people connect. Apps like Messenger, Instagram and WhatsApp further empowered billions around the world. Now, Meta is moving beyond 2D screens toward immersive experiences like augmented and virtual reality to help build the next evolution in social technology.

“Connection is evolving and so are we.”

The metaverse is the next evolution of social connection. Our company’s vision is to help bring the metaverse to life, so we are changing our name to reflect our commitment to this future.

“The metaverse will be social.”

Founder’s Letter, 2021

Screen shot of CEO Mark Zuckerberg at the company’s “Connect” virtual event.

(Editor’s Note: Below is the complete, unedited Founder’s Letter as delivered by Facebook CEO Mark Zuckerberg on Thursday, October 28, 2021, as published on the internet. The only addition to Mr. Zuckerberg’s statement has been photos and graphics for the purpose of emphasizing his announcement.)

(October 28, 2021) We are at the beginning of the next chapter for the internet, and it’s the next chapter for our company too.

In recent decades, technology has given people the power to connect and express ourselves more naturally. When I started Facebook, we mostly typed text on websites. When we got phones with cameras, the internet became more visual and mobile. As connections got faster, video became a richer way to share experiences. We’ve gone from desktop to web to mobile; from text to photos to video. But this isn’t the end of the line.

The next platform will be even more immersive — an embodied internet where you’re in the experience, not just looking at it. We call this the metaverse, and it will touch every product we build. The defining quality of the metaverse will be a feeling of presence — like you are right there with another person or in another place. Feeling truly present with another person is the ultimate dream of social technology. That is why we are focused on building this.

In the metaverse, you’ll be able to do almost anything you can imagine — get together with friends and family, work, learn, play, shop, create — as well as completely new experiences that don’t really fit how we think about computers or phones today. We made a film that explores how you might use the metaverse one day. In this future, you will be able to teleport instantly as a hologram to be at the office without a commute, at a concert with friends, or in your parents’ living room to catch up. This will open up more opportunity no matter where you live. You’ll be able to spend more time on what matters to you, cut down time in traffic, and reduce your carbon footprint. Think about how many physical things you have today that could just be holograms in the future. Your TV, your perfect work setup with multiple monitors, your board games and more — instead of physical things assembled in factories, they’ll be holograms designed by creators around the world. You’ll move across these experiences on different devices — augmented reality glasses to stay present in the physical world, virtual reality to be fully immersed, and phones and computers to jump in from existing platforms. This isn’t about spending more time on screens; it’s about making the time we already spend better.

Our Role and Responsibility

The metaverse will not be created by one company. It will be built by creators and developers making new experiences and digital items that are interoperable and unlock a massively larger creative economy than the one constrained by today’s platforms and their policies.

Our role in this journey is to accelerate the development of the fundamental technologies, social platforms and creative tools to bring the metaverse to life, and to weave these technologies through our social media apps. We believe the metaverse can enable better social experiences than anything that exists today, and we will dedicate our energy to helping achieve its potential.

As I wrote in our original founder’s letter: “we don’t build services to make money; we make money to build better services.”

This approach has served us well. We’ve built our business to support very large and long term investments to build better services, and that’s what we plan to do here. The last five years have been humbling for me and our company in many ways. One of the main lessons I’ve learned is that building products people love isn’t enough.

I’ve gained more appreciation that the internet’s story isn’t straightforward. Every chapter brings new voices and new ideas, but also new challenges, risks, and disruption of established interests. We’ll need to work together, from the beginning, to bring the best possible version of this future to life.

Privacy and safety need to be built into the metaverse from day one. So do open standards and interoperability. This will require not just novel technical work — like supporting crypto and NFT projects in the community — but also new forms of governance. Most of all, we need to help build ecosystems so that more people have a stake in the future and can benefit not just as consumers but as creators.

This period has also been humbling because as big of a company as we are, we’ve also learned what it’s like to build on other platforms. Living under their rules has profoundly shaped my views on the tech industry. I’ve come to believe that the lack of choice for consumers and high fees for developers are stifling innovation and holding back the internet economy.

We’ve tried to take a different approach. We want our services to be accessible to as many people as possible, which means working to make them cost less, not more. Our mobile apps are free. Our ads model is designed to provide businesses the lowest prices. Our commerce tools are available at cost or with modest fees. As a result, billions of people love our services and hundreds of millions of businesses rely on our tools.

That’s the approach we want to bring to helping to build the metaverse. We plan to sell our devices at cost or subsidized to make them available to more people. We’ll continue supporting side-loading and streaming from PCs so people have choice, rather than forcing them to use the Quest Store to find apps or reach customers. And we’ll aim to offer developer and creator services with low fees in as many cases as possible so we can maximize the overall creative economy. We’ll need to make sure we don’t lose too much money along the way though.

Our hope is that within the next decade, the metaverse will reach a billion people, host hundreds of billions of dollars of digital commerce, and support jobs for millions of creators and developers.

Who We Are

As we embark on this next chapter, I’ve thought a lot about what this means for our company and our identity. We’re a company that focuses on connecting people. While most tech companies focus on how people interact with technology, we’ve always focused on building technology so people can interact with each other.

Today we’re seen as a social media company. Facebook is one of the most used technology products in the history of the world. It’s an iconic social media brand.

Building social apps will always be important for us, and there’s a lot more to build. But increasingly, it’s not all we do. In our DNA, we build technology to bring people together. The metaverse is the next frontier in connecting people, just like social networking was when we got started.

Right now our brand is so tightly linked to one product that it can’t possibly represent everything we’re doing today, let alone in the future. Over time, I hope we are seen as a metaverse company, and I want to anchor our work and our identity on what we’re building towards.

We just announced that we’re making a fundamental change to our company. We’re now looking at and reporting on our business as two different segments: one for our family of apps and one for our work on future platforms. Our work on the metaverse is not just one of these segments. The metaverse encompasses both the social experiences and future technology. As we broaden our vision, it’s time for us to adopt a new brand.

To reflect who we are and the future we hope to build, I’m proud to share that our company is now Meta. Our mission remains the same — it’s still about bringing people together. Our apps and their brands aren’t changing either. We’re still the company that designs technology around people.

But all of our products, including our apps, now share a new vision: to help bring the metaverse to life. And now we have a name that reflects the breadth of what we do.

From now on, we will be metaverse-first, not Facebook-first. That means that over time you won’t need a Facebook account to use our other services. As our new brand starts showing up in our products, I hope people around the world come to know the Meta brand and the future we stand for.

I used to study Classics, and the word “meta” comes from the Greek word meaning “beyond”. For me, it symbolizes that there is always more to build, and there is always a next chapter to the story. Ours is a story that started in a dorm room and grew beyond anything we imagined; into a family of apps that people use to connect with one another, to find their voice, and to start businesses, communities, and movements that have changed the world.

I’m proud of what we’ve built so far, and I’m excited about what comes next — as we move beyond what’s possible today, beyond the constraints of screens, beyond the limits of distance and physics, and towards a future where everyone can be present with each other, create new opportunities and experience new things. It is a future that is beyond any one company and that will be made by all of us. We have built things that have brought people together in new ways. We’ve learned from struggling with difficult social issues and living under closed platforms. Now it is time to take everything we’ve learned and help build the next chapter.

I’m dedicating our energy to this — more than any other company in the world. If this is the future you want to see, I hope you’ll join us. The future is going to be beyond anything we can imagine. — Mark Zuckerberg (Courtesy facebook.com)

美南國際電視 15.3 《美南時事通》 烏克蘭戰爭滿一月 俄經濟被打回原形！

(本報記者黃梅子) 俄烏戰爭打到這個份上，可以說沒有什麼懸念了，勝負基本已定，就像一場籃球比賽一樣，接下來的下半場大概率都是垃圾時間。

俄羅斯不交手還好，還能唬一陣子，“戰鬥民族”，黑海艦隊，6800枚核彈，唬得人一愣一愣的，但是一交手過後，行家就能看出門道來，傻大個被小個子打的滿地找牙，強弱差距太大，根本就不是一個代差。

如果說一戰是戰爭1.0版，二戰是2.0版，海灣戰爭是3.0版，那麼俄烏戰爭則是4.0版對陣2.0版，你說這仗還怎麼打？烏軍像滴滴打車一樣派單，由就近的“滴滴小哥”接活，目的地都標註好了，掛上毒刺導彈抑或標槍導彈就出發幹活了。

這也是俄軍找不到烏軍大部隊根本的原因，現代戰爭，不講究大部隊作戰，集團軍作戰了，人家一個小分隊就能搞定你一個營，或者一個旅。這也是烏軍傷亡很少，而俄軍傷亡極大的根本原因。人海戰術已經過時了，鋼鐵洪流已經落伍了，不與時俱進，就會被打得很慘。

現在，美帝又給烏克蘭送來“彈簧刀”無人機，就更沒法玩了。這意味著更多將軍將被斬首！無知者無畏，俄羅斯人不信邪，繼續打，不停歇，結果又一將軍被“彈簧刀”無人機斬首。前幾天被斬首的五位都是少將，這回來一個中將“中獎”了。照這樣打下來，俄軍在戰場上的20位將軍恐怕不夠用了，這可是歷次戰爭史上沒有過的這麼多的將軍陣亡，可以說是前無古人，但不知道後有來者否？

俄軍武器、戰術都不行，差的不止一個時代。

俄羅斯，從普京發動戰爭那一刻起，就註定沒

有了未來。經濟已經玩完了，幾十年儲備的那點外匯都被凍結拿去戰爭賠償，淪落為四流國家都不止；政治上已經孤家寡人了，就連那幾個斯坦都不聽話了，不和他玩了；就連以前大氣不敢出的女總統的摩爾多瓦小國，都要求俄軍從他的領土上無條件全部撤走；以前的兄弟愛沙尼亞、拉脫維亞、立陶宛等國宣布驅逐俄外交官；還有芬蘭、拉脫維亞、土耳其、日本、韓國等五國向俄羅斯索要被侵占的領土，被搶占300多萬平方公里地盤最多的中國會

開打前，人們都在猜烏克蘭能撐多久；開打後，人們都在猜俄羅斯還能撐多久？

2.0版的鋼鐵洪流，怎麼能幹得過4.0版的AI為核心的數字化戰爭？

俄羅斯入侵烏克蘭，一是蠢，二是蠻。由於愚蠢，所以才會跳進火坑；由於蠻，才會狂轟濫炸，傷及無辜平民。
